warrage 10, 15, 25, 40, 50, 60 but shels or more per acre? Threfs has been a lot of arguing and guessing in this county agent and guessing in this county as to how much different farmers will average. The county average yield in past years has been reported at 11 bushels per acre. But this summer we have heard farmer after farmer say that he will average 30 35, 40, 50 and even 60 bushels or more on his entire crop. Now that is a lot more than the county average.

It looks like a good corn crop this year. Why not check your yield? We will estimate your gleid? We will estimate your yield? We will estimate your hishings. Let's say you have 20 acres in corn.
